The most amazing coffee table book of ancient stone and modern glassBy Talia CarnerWhat could be more beautiful than the two-thousand-years old stones of Jerusalem?Marrying it with his magnificent works of glass, Chihuly celebrated the history of David Citadel with his art. The indestructible fortress that had withstood generations of enemy attacks is juxtaposed with the most fragile of all materials--glass.There is no better example than "one picture is worth a thousand words" than this coffee-table book, an album of beauty and tradition and deep roots to be cherished and share.Talia Carner, author,Puppet Child and China Doll

This book documents the yearlong exhibition with 117 full-color images of Chihuly's sculptures, his energetic drawings, and his team as they install the exhibition. These images are accompanied by Chihuly's affectionate letters to his young son, Jackson, about the joys and challenges of the project and his essay (reprinted with permission from Ariel: The Israel Review of Arts and Letters, vol. 111, 1999) on his inspirations at the site. Also included is an illuminating foreword by Shosh Yaniv, director of the Tower of David Museum of the History of Jerusalem, and a section containing seven insightful reviews of the exhibition. This book offers an opportunity to share in a unique millennium celebration a joyous tribute by an artist as he captures the light, history, and essence of one of the greatest cities in the world.
