Sir Terence Conran : Toys and Children's Furniture: 20 Stylish DIY Projects to Make for Your Children

before purchasing it in order to gage whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Toys and Children's Furniture: 20 Stylish DIY Projects to Make for Your Children:

Fully illustrated with colour photographs and artworks, this book contains designs for useful, practical furniture and playthings to make for your children, and tips for decorating and furnishing children's rooms. All the projects are easy to build and most require a minimum outlay in terms of time and the cost of materials required. They include storage items, a baby's crib, a classic doll's house, a puppet theatre and a climbing frame, and each project is approved by the Royal Society for the Prevention of Accidents.

About the AuthorTerence Conran is one of the world's best-known designers, restaurateurs and retailers. In the 1960s he founded Habitat - the chain of homeware stores that brought good, modern design within reach of the general population for the very first time.Over the subsequent 50 years Terence built another group of companies centred around design, retailing, restaurants and hotels. Today, Conran owns restaurants and shops in eight cities throughout the world and a design business serving many international clients that includes architecture and interior design, product and graphic design and brand licensing.In January 2011 Conran began working with Marks Spencer in the UK, designing an exclusive range of homewares for the store. In 2012 Conran signed a deal to collaborate with US retail giant jcpenny to design an exclusive range of furniture, lighting and accessories for the home. The initial collection launched in spring 2013 into 300 jcpenny stores throughout the US and there will be new ranges launching each spring and autumn. Terence was knighted for his services to design in 1983 and has been provost of the Royal College of Art in London. In 1982 he opened the very first museum in the world dedicated to design, which is now the celebrated Design Museum in London, due to move to new premises in 2015 thanks to a massive expansion programme.
